EDUCATION IN HONG KONG

(No. 2.) St. Mary's School, Kowloon

We commenced our series of articles on Education in Hong Kong last week by a description of the Church of England establishment, The Boys' Diocesan School, and we continue it to-day with a brief account of one of the biggest schools in the Colony for Roman Catholic girls, viz. St. Mary's School, Kowloon.

First opened about thirty-five years ago, it has grown enormously, and at the new building, in Austin Road six hundred pupils are taken. This school is run by the Canossian Sisters (who have two other schools in their charge, viz. The Italian Convent School, Caine Road, and St. Francis School, Wanchai). It is for girls of all nationalities, but the majority of pupils are Chinese, Portuguese, Filipino, or Indian. Their ages range from five or six (and among these tiny tots there are a number of boys, who, when old enough go on to the La Salle College), to girls of nineteen who take their School Certificate and Matriculation Examination at the Hong Kong University.

EIGHTEEN CLASS-ROOMS
All the subjects are taught in English, and for benefit of children who do not know this language already there are numerous classes for reading, writing, and English dictation. It is charming to see the very young children in their pretty class-rooms with gaily coloured pictures on the walls, all the attractive objects one connects with Kindergarten studies and pretty illustrated books to make learning easy. The summer uniform of white with blue-edged sailor's collar is very suitable and most becoming to the pupils. There are, in all, eighteen class-rooms and all are pleasant, airy and well-lighted. There is no overcrowding, and the floors are of terrazzo which is beautifully cool in this hot weather.

Specially planned desks and chairs prevent their being too cold in winter as each desk has a wooden floor-attachment so that the pupils stand on wood, and not on stone.

PHYSICAL CULTURE
The school specialises in botany and in languages, and pupils can learn French, Chinese and Portuguese. Extra studies are piano

HEALTH RETURNS

Two cases of diphtheria and one of enteric fever were reported for the 24 hours on Sunday. For the week ended on Saturday there were three cases of small-pox, three of diphtheria, eight of enteric fever, two of cerebro-spinal fever, nine of dysentery and 68 deaths from tuberculosis.

NO RIFLE SHOOT

We have been asked by Major D. E. Steers, O.B.E., R.E., Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Rifle Association to state that there will be no mid-week rifle practice to-day.

Gas, The Latest Weapon Of War

Capt. E.B.C. Dicken, O.B.E., D.S.C., R.N., who succeeded Rear-Admiral C.G. Sedgwick as Commander in Hong Kong, was introduced to members and guests at the weekly dinner of the Hong Kong Rotary Club held at the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The speaker of the day was Engineer-Commander H. J. White, R.N., of the Naval Dockyard, and his subject, "Anti-Gas" was most interesting. Rotarian W.N. Thomas Tam (President) introduced Rotarian K.R. Flouwright (Shanghai), Rotarian J.F. Wierink (Qanton), Rotarian U. Salmon (Bankow), Lieut-Comdr. B.M. Douglas and a new member, Rotarian A. Murdoch (Hong Kong). Guests included Messrs. A. Hassem, J. Redman, V.C. Branson.

R.W. Lowe, Chan Tit Yat, E. Hallstone, J. Ralston and K.A. Begdon. Introducing the speaker, the President said that Commander White during his three years stay in Hong Kong had devoted himself voluntarily to the subject of anti-gas and, perhaps unknown to many, he had lectured on the subject in the Naval Dockyard, and to members of the medical and sanitary services and nurses of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. Commander White had personally put the majority of the members of the Brigade through the respirator and gas chamber courses and had also attended a few of the Hong Kong Anti-Gas Committee meetings. Commander White gave a lecture to the Hong Kong Rotary Club in November, 1935. (Applause.)

INJURED MAN GIVES HIS VERSION OF THE ACCIDENT

TECHNICAL DESCRIPTION OF THE DISASTER

Giving evidence at the resumed inquest into the death of a Chinese seaman who was one of the many victims who lost their lives as a result of an explosion on the O.S.K. steam launch, Dojima Maru, at Queen's Statue Pier on the night of May 17, Major R. D. Walker, Manager and Chief Engineer of the Kowloon Canton Railway, stated that if there had been a high explosive there would have been no passengers left and very little of the pier. Witness described the disaster as being technically an unwrapped or expansive explosion.

The hearing will be continued this afternoon at the Central Magistracy before Mr. W. Schofield, sitting as Coroner, and a special jury comprising Mr. L. C. F. Bellamy (Foreman), Mr. W. T. Stanton and Mr. M. H. Lo. Yesterday the jury sat with the Coroner.

Mr. J. T. Prior, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, holds a watching brief on behalf of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, while Mr. O. E. C. Marton, of Messrs. Deacons, represents the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company, Limited.

Professor W. I. Gerrard, of the Hong Kong University, testified that on May 17, about 7.55 p.m. he was on a Star Ferry launch near the Hong Kong wharf. He was looking over at Queen's Statue Pier when he saw a cloud and immediately after there was a tremendous crash with an explosion of some sort, then a cloud of dark smoke and witness could see the air was full of something which he could not make out. The crash was followed by the explosion in less than a second. Witness described the medical aid rendered at the pier and said that he did not see any burns or scalds.

SOUND WAVES

Mr. Prior: Do you think that sound waves are heard quicker through water than air?
Witness: That I don't know. The thud might have been the sound through water and the crash the sound through air. I was wearing dark glasses at the time of the incident.

Dr. Wan Chih Hing, who was a passenger with Prof. Gerrard, stated that he heard a single report of an explosion which was very loud. Witness saw a cloud of whitish smoke at Queen's Pier and objects flying through the air. Witness smelt gasoline coming from the direction of the pier, though it was quite possible it came from a passing motor-boat.

DR. KUNG LEAVES FOR AMERICA

To Return To Germany For Cure In Near Future

Berlin, June 15.

Dr. Kung left for Nauheim yesterday and consulted a doctor with whom he arranged a cure in the very near future. Slight heart trouble was diagnosed at Prague on his arrival in Europe. To-night he leaves for Cherbourg on his way to America on board the R.M.S. Queen Mary. It is understood that Yale will confer on him a degree. He is accompanied by Mr. Kuang Son-young and six other members of the delegation.

Admiral Chen Shao-kuan and Mr. Wang Wen-yao will remain in Berlin for a few days. Interviewed by Reuter, Mr. Wang said: "Our prolonged stay has no special significance. Our work here is ended with Dr. Kung's departure."

Sir Frederick Maze, Inspector-General of Maritime Customs, returned to London, and interviewed by Reuter, he dwelt on the warmth of Dr. Kung's reception everywhere, especially at Brussels and Berlin. Sir Frederick accompanied Dr. Kung as counsellor, and had lengthy conversations with Belgian and German Ministers of Finance who were very interested on all aspects of Chinese recovery.

With reference to Dr. Kung's Chinese loan interview on June 12, the papers made no comment, but inquiries in the city show that the general feeling towards China was as well disposed as ever, but it is pointed out that the idea of a four per cent loan was too optimistic in view of the higher yield obtainable from the senior securities.

It appears agreed that nothing concrete is likely to emerge until the autumn. Two or three members of the delegation are remaining in London when the others leave for China.—Reuter.

The newspaper also reports further arrests including the Commissar of Justice, Kretinsky, the Ambassador to Tokyo, Jurenieff, the ex-Ambassador to Madrid, Rosenberg, also four high officials of the Foreign Office and War Ministry. There is no confirmation of the foregoing from any other source.—Reuter.

Piano Recital At Helena May

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, with Mrs. N. L. Smith and Miss Judith Smith honoured Marina Barretto and Harry Ore by attending their joint recital at the Helena May Institute last night.

The programme opened with the Bach Fugue in G. Major for two pianos, played with splendid power and rhythm by both musicians, and this was followed by Variations and Fugue in G. Major on the Beethoven Theme (Op. 10) arranged by Harry Ore himself. In this Marina Barretto gave out the melody, while the other pianist followed her lead in intricate phrases which resulted in an ensemble of notable brilliance. Mr. Ore must be congratulated on this clever arrangement.

Two solos from him came next. "Dumka" (a Russian Rustic Scene by Tchaikovsky) played in a quiet and reflective manner followed by the delicate brilliance of Maurice Ravel's "Jeux d'Eau" played with exceptional charm. An enthusiastic encore was the result and Harry Ore chose for this Grieg's Lovely Scherzo in E Minor.

The Piece de Resistance of the concert was the Brahmanoff Suite for two pianos (Op. 17 in C). (Continued on Page 8.)

GUNNER IN COURT

Given Option Of Fine

Gunner John Webb of the R.A. was convicted on three charges of forging an agreement and assault, when he appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday and was charged with obtaining a radio set valued at $195 from the Tsang Fook Piano Company on December 23 last by forging an agreement between himself and the company, obtaining the set under false pretences, and for assaulting Mr. Tsang Fook on June 5. A fine of $250 was imposed on the first charge, with an alternative of three months' hard labour. A similar sentence was imposed on the second charge, and he was fined $50 or one month's hard labour on the third charge.

USED ANOTHER NAME

Mr. J. T. Prior who appeared for the accused stated that the defendant went to the Tsang Fook Piano Company in December last and purchased a radio set, signing the name of J. Gunter. If Webb had signed his real name he would not have been able to obtain the set, as in August he obtained credit from the shop and if he had signed the name of Webb it would have been recognised by the shop.

On May 18, no payment was made by the defendant and a radio technician employed by Messrs Tsang Fook and Company recognised the set in the Modern Radio Shop in Middle Road where it was under repair. On June 5, Webb came to the shop in Queen's Road and hit Mr. Tsang Fook in the face.

Mr. Tsang Fook in the witness box stated that in the agreement, defendant, in the name of J. Gunter, agreed to pay $45 down and in each subsequent month he would pay $35 for the radio which was an Emerson battery set. On December witness allowed defendant to take possession of the set, as the defendant had promised to pay at the end of the month. Ever since the defendant had taken the set no payment had been made.

ALMOST SOLD SET

After evidence had been taken by Mr. V. Novikoff and Mr. Yuen Tim-yau, a clerk at the office of what they knew of the affair, Leung Sui-min, manager of the Modern Radio shop in Kowloon, stated that Webb brought the set in March for repairs, and the cost of repairs was $16. After repairs had been made defendant took delivery of the set but made no payment. Witness wrote him several letters asking him to make payments but the defendant brought back the set and said that there was something wrong with it. When witness asked him for payment, which now amounted to $22.50, defendant asked him if he could sell the set for him, and that he was willing to accept $45, and that when he (witness) had sold the set he could take the money owing him from the $45. On several occasions witness almost sold the set.

Police Sergeant L. C. Pennell then gave evidence of having arrested the defendant. And after he had entered the shop he was informed that no payment had been made and that Mr. Tsang had been struck in the face. Defendant then made a statement that he had never suggested to Mr. Leung Sui-min that he wanted to sell the set and also alleged that Mr. Tsang failed to identify him at the Police Station.

OPTION OF FINE

Second Lieutenant Moffat-Wilson, R.A. who was present in Court then stated that the fact that the defendant had bought the set in uniform and gave his address showed that the defendant had no intention of carrying out a thought or intention of fraud. He also stated that the defendant was of a moderate character and in fact had been re-engaged for a further nine years by his commanding officer.

Mr. Prior then pointed out that the alleged assault on Mr. Tsang Fook was entirely unprovoked. His Worship in convicting defendant and imposing the sentences stated that he had given the defendant the option of a fine, and ordered the radio to be given back to Mr. Tsang Fook.

Alleged to have been severely man-handled by folks after he had been seen climbing down the drain pipe of 21 Canal Road, Li Ying, 25, was found lying unconscious in the road and was removed by the police to the Government Civil Hospital. Li Ying was suspected of having committed a burglary.

COURT OF APPEAL

Echo To Manslaughter Case In Sessions

In answer to submissions by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro and Mr. M. J. Abbott at the Full Court of Criminal Appeal yesterday morning, the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, and Mr. Justice J. A. Fraser, announced that they would give their decision in a written judgment in the course of a few days.

The appeal was on the grounds of misdirection of the jury by the learned trial judge and was against the conviction of Ahmed Din, an Indian constable B667, aged 33, who was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Justice R.E. Lindsell after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter when the evidence of the case was heard in the May Criminal Sessions.

The jury who heard the case were Messrs. Omar el Arculli (foreman), J. H. R. Hance, Ng Tse-tat, Leong Ngai-poo, Frank Tock, R. F. Clark, and N. W. Smiley.

The Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro Jr., instructed by Mr. D. McCallum, appeared on behalf of the appellant, while the Crown was represented by Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, assisted by Inspector F. T. J. Portallion.

It will be recalled that Ahmed Din was found guilty of the manslaughter of Tsang Wui, aged 50, of an unnumbered hut near the Ho Wang Temple on March 23, when he kicked deceased, rupturing deceased's greatly enlarged spleen, as a result of which deceased died.

NO EVIDENCE

Conducting the appeal, Mr. D'Almada said that the appeal was against the conviction on two grounds, the first being that the learned trial judge misdirected the jury when he said that they were no doubt aware that Indian constables did not always behave with complete propriety towards the lower-class Chinese and that they were entitled to take that into consideration. Counsel submitted that there was no evidence on that point, and that if there were, it would be inadmissible, and the jury would not be entitled to take it into consideration.

Continuing, Counsel said the second point was that the learned trial judge's reply to the question put forward by the foreman of the jury of whether the fact that the spleen of deceased was enlarged went into mitigation. The judge's reply was that the question of the enlarged spleen had no bearing on their deliberations. It might have a bearing if they returned a verdict of guilty and the question of sentence arose.

MISCARRIAGE OF JUSTICE

Counsel then outlined the facts of the case in brief, explaining that one of the most important witnesses had several inconsistencies in his evidence which, if the misdirection was established, might show that there had been a substantial miscarriage of justice. The case for the defence was that rightly or wrongly appellant honestly believed that deceased was attempting to interfere with his searching him wherefore he pushed him with his foot. Evidence showed that a slight kick from a heavy service boot would have ruptured the spleen.

Counsel went on to say that there was no reason why the conduct of the body of Indian police, good or bad, should have any bearing on appellant at all, just because appellant was of the same race, yet the jury must have had this in their minds as a primary consideration when giving the verdict on account of learned trial judge's misdirection.

THE SECOND GROUND

The second ground of appeal, though not so strong, was cumulative with the first. Counsel submitted, saying that the learned trial judge should have contented with merely telling the jury that the enlarged spleen was no part of their deliberations, but the elaboration of that statement might have caused the jury to feel that even if they did return a verdict of guilty, the condition of the spleen would be taken into consideration.

NO MOTIVE NECESSARY

Mr. Abbott, replying for the Crown, said the first instance of misdirection alleged was taken from its context, and following the remark about motive as it did, might quite well have reacted to the appellant's advantage because the jury might take it to imply that the Crown had failed to establish a motive though, in

EUROPEAN CONVICTED

Appearing before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday Gerald V. Rowland aged 45 unemployed was fined $10 with the alternative of three weeks' hard labour when charged with absconding himself from the House of Detention.

Detective Sergeant P. H. Loughlin who prosecuted stated that the defendant had been granted certain privileges to go and look for work from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day from the House of Detention. On June 11 Rowlands failed to return at 4 p.m. and did not return on Saturday or Sunday. He had not behaved very well at the House of Detention and had on several other occasions returned later than the time given him, and sometime much the worse for drink. Defendant was arrested when he went to the Benevolent Society to seek aid. When he discovered that there was a police officer present he tried to go away.

RADIO IN NEW ZEALAND

Wellington, N.Z.—Two hundred and twenty-one persons took out the 25s. radio licence in 1936. Allowing four persons to a house, this means that there are rather more than two receiving sets to every four homes in the Dominion. In addition, 994 amateur experimental licenses were in force. The net increase over the preceding year in receiving licenses was 20 per cent.

really of course, no motive was necessary in the charge of manslaughter.

Continuing, Mr. Abbott said that any unreliability in the evidence of the witness referred to, was wiped out by the evidence of others.

Mr. Abbott went on to say that the second ground of the appeal could not really be called misdirection because, if the learned trial judge had only said that the spleen was no part of their deliberations, the jury would have been "in the air," as they would not know whether the point was going to be considered at all. If the appeal were to be upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeal, then there was abundant evidence of the commission of the crime to order a re-trial.

WRITTEN JUDGMENT

In reply to Mr. Abbott, Mr. D'Almada explained that these powers were not available to the Court of Criminal Appeal in England and that they had never been exercised in this Colony, submitting that he did not think these powers should be invoked for the first time in such a case as this, as appellant had had a fair trial, apart from the grounds of the appeal.

After consulting with Mr. Justice Fraser, the Chief Justice announced that they would give their decision in a written judgment in the course of a few days.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of 'Bisurated' Magnesia to be the quickest acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment the soothing draught reaches the tormented stomach it begins to loosen the sour fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become so liquid and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and promptly disappears. The following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon learn to understand and grope about, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

DUKE OF WINDSOR
MOWS MEADOWS

Duchess Busy Planning Her
Parks And Gardens

Wasserleoburg, June 10.
The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are settling down to a quiet domestic life at Wasserleoburg and are finding it delightful. The Duke, in Carinthian peasant shorts, has set about mowing the meadows of the estate and the Duchess is busy planning the gardens and park round the castle.

About 5,000 telegrams and several hundred letters were here to welcome them on their arrival, and a specially engaged stenographer will be kept busy for some time sending replies to well-wishers all over the world who wished them happiness.

"The Duke does not contemplate wandering about Europe," said his secretary. "He wants to lead a useful life and will naturally always be ready to serve Britain if she needs him; but he will do so in private capacity."

He will take his bride on several excursions, to Worth Lake and possibly to Venice and to Hled, where the Yugoslavian Government has asked him to inaugurate a new golf course. Both are entranced with the scenery round their domain and are content to lead a quiet life for several weeks longer.
Friends are expected to visit them later, and perhaps one of the Duke's brothers.

DRUG THAT AIDS BRAINWORK

THINKING SPEEDED UP

Doctors Guarded Report

More information about benzedrine, the remarkable brain-stimulating drug, published in the current issue of the "British Medical Journal," suggests that in future no public speaker or business man in an executive position will be able to do without it.

The general effect of small doses taken in tablet form is to produce increased confidence, initiative, and ease in making decisions, sometimes combined with a feeling of restlessness. There is also a pronounced impulse to talk more than usual. Thinking processes appear to be speeded up without impairing attention, concentration, or judgment.

According to the authors of the present report "medical colleagues and others who have themselves taken benzedrine have found it of definite value in such tasks as lecturing or taking an examination. It also helps to remove mental fatigue brought on by excessive work or worry."

CONFIDENCE IMPARTED

"Important interviews of various kinds have been tackled more confidently than usual under benzedrine, especially those requiring quick thought and ability to talk convincingly and fluently."

Another effect of benzedrine is to produce sleeplessness, but this is not always unpleasant. It is reported by some as "lying contentedly in bed," in contrast with the distressing restlessness of the insomnia in many nervous illnesses. The effects of the drug often persist the following morning, so that the subject gets up feeling surprisingly fresh and active in spite of the comparative lack of sleep.

The effect of benzedrine upon sufferers from mental disorders is being slowly elucidated. Clearly it has a great value in chosen examples of severe depression.

DEPRESSION PUT OFF

According to the present report, for instance, it enabled one patient who felt he was developing one of his recurrent depressive attacks, to carry on important work for an extra week and to make business arrangements for the period of his approaching illness.

In another patient, an artist, who had given up drawing during his illness, started again when given benzedrine, but drew only on his benzedrine days and not on other days.

The present report emphasises that benzedrine is a powerful drug not to be too lightly used. It suggested that the present position by which it can be easily purchased without a prescription is possibly dangerous.

CHILD'S FATAL FALL THROUGH 74-INCH GAP

Coronation Day Tragedy

"Nobody was to blame," said Mr. Ingleby Oddie, the Coroner, at the inquest at Westminster on Charman Joan, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus Lascelles Hamilton-Russell, who fell down a lift shaft at the home of Lord Bearsted on Coronation day.

The father was called from the Abbey ceremony, in which he was the bearer of the coronet of the Princess Royal.

Charman and her five-year-old brother, Michael, had been taken to Lord Bearsted's house in Carlton-gardens to watch the procession.

The child's nurse, Edith Hundy, said that she was on the roof with the children, a girl aged 13, and a maid. They were going down for breakfast, and the girl rang for the lift.

"Somebody opened the door," she said, "and Charman went in and we followed. Charman disappeared through a gap between the edge of the lift and the wall and fell down the shaft."

Mr. Lawrence H. Day, an engineer, said that there was a gap be-

ILLITERACY IN INDIA

Official Report's Disclosures

A story of illiteracy, inefficiency, extravagance and maladministration, is told in the report on Education in India in 1934-5, just issued by the Government of India.

"Little has been done to diminish the waste and extravagance which characterises the administration of primary education by local bodies," the report states. "When no less than 74 per cent of all boys attending primary schools never attain literacy, it is obvious that the administration of primary education by local bodies has failed."

Figures of illiteracy among girls are even more depressing. The per centage is 87, but it was 90 per cent in 1931.

Control of primary education by local bodies is described as "wasteful and inefficient in the extreme."

Dealing with the danger of increasing unemployment among University graduates, the report speaks of "a general agreement that the numbers indiscriminately crowding the universities should be reduced... by diverting those not suited to an academic career at an earlier age."

A report from the Punjab speaks of "vast numbers of ill-prepared and ill-equipped youths who encumber our University institutions and block all attempts to raise the standard of University examinations."

Since 1932-3 the decline among boys attending vernacular middle schools amounts to 58,178, attributed to the inability of rural parents to pay even the low fees charged.

Reports from the provinces on Anglo-vernacular and secondary education are as follows:

BEST SCHOOLS UNPOPULAR

Bengal.—In spite of the distinct rural and agricultural character of the province the middle vernacular schools in which boys might obtain a good general grounding have never been popular. The vernacular system of education, which should be the prop and stay of rural development tends more and more to deteriorate.

The Central Provinces report refers to "The low standard and gloomy atmosphere found in most aided and unaided schools."

Bombay.—Many of the teachers are unable to express themselves freely and correctly in English.

United Provinces.—Inspectors are, as last year, agreed that English teaching has deteriorated. The Inspector of Lucknow circle states that many of his headmasters attribute poor English to the adoption of the vernacular as the medium of teaching.

Bihar and Orissa.—In some schools the visitor feels that the headmaster and staff are really trying their best, but in others he sees a complete lack of enthusiasm of any kind.

Burma.—The large numbers of over age pupils in the high department of Anglo-vernacular schools must have a serious effect on morals, discipline, and work.

TEACHERS

There are still complaints about the unfortunate position of teachers in non-Government schools... "pitiable as ever," states the Punjab report, which adds, "teachers in general have to carry on their work under most disheartening conditions, particularly in respect of security of tenure, pay, and prospects."

Teachers are organising to a greater extent, and there are several flourishing associations doing a great deal to improve the lot of their members. The chief drawback is the lack of interest and co-operation among the teachers themselves.

Among the more encouraging sections of the report is a reference to Scouting. This continues to increase in popularity and in numbers; there is a welcome tendency to concentrate on quality rather than quantity, and to substitute real work for outward show.

between the edge of the lift and the wall, which widened to seven and a quarter inches at the top floor. It was through this gap that the child fell.

"It is incredible to think that both feet could go through the gap," said Mr. Day.

The Coroner said that there was nothing defective about the lift.

He recorded a verdict of accidental death.

CALIFORNIA STRAIGHT AHEAD

A dramatic action picture, packed with thrills and laden with romance, is showing at the Alhambra Theatre to-day, when Universal's film, "California Straight Ahead" will be seen on the screen. The picture dramatizes a struggle between railroads and trucking lines for supremacy. The story is told from the viewpoint of the human beings who carry the fight along, showing their personal problems, loves and hates. The cast includes John Wayne, Louise Latimer, Robert McWade, Theodore Von Eltz, Tully Marshall, Emerson Treacy and Leroy Mason.

SHE COULDN'T TAKE IT

George Raft and Joan Bennett battle their boisterous way through laughs, thrills and romance in Columbia's "She Couldn't Take It," which is on to-day at the Majestic Theatre. Headed by the stellar pair and cast with a long list of excellent players, the picture relates the colourful tale of an exgangster who undertakes to manage the affairs of the socially prominent Van Dyke family, whose escapades and front-page scandals have kept them tabloid-headlines for a half-score of years.

PARK AVENUE DAME

Richard Arlen recently placed under term contract, and Fay Wray, Columbia's star and leading woman, were assigned to a new picture entitled "Park Avenue Dame," which will be placed in production in the very near future. At present, Miss Wray is working before the cameras in "Once A Hero," in which she is co-starred with Richard Dix. This will be Mr. Arlen's first assignment under his new contract.

Starting his picture career as a Paramount stock player, Mr. Arlen played his first important role in "Wings." Some of his later pictures include "She Made Her Bed," "Ready For Love," "Let 'em Have It," "Hellbender," "Three Live Ghosts" and "Secret Valley." Last season he was starred in Columbia's Harold Bell Wright story, "The Calling of Dan Matthews" and "The Mine With The Iron Door."

Miss Wray had the leading roles in a number of Columbia's earlier productions including, "Once To Every Woman," "White Lies," "The Captain Hates The Sea," "Roaming Lady" and "They Met In A Taxi."

THE HOLLYWOOD TRADITION

Such a fuss was made of Hollywood's capture of the Earl of Warwick that it is hard to believe that he has not made a single picture during his time over there is mildly amusing, writes a London correspondent. Actually this is distinctly in the Hollywood tradition. I don't know about actors, but I do know that a number of well-known authors and playwrights have been invited over, been paid big salaries for six months, and have left for home without doing a stroke of work for the films. Still, it's Hollywood's

Screen Players Have Plenty Of Grit And Determination

Hollywood screen players not only do not let disaster get them down—but they deliberately capitalise on it, writes a Hollywood correspondent.

This was pointed out more than ever recently as Carole Lombard, beautiful blonde star, began to work under her new contract, one of the most favourable entered into between a player and a motion picture producer in several years.

Miss Lombard was injured so seriously while riding in the automobile of a friend ten years ago, that she was in hospital and received special treatments for a period of six months. Not only did she suffer from extreme shock which affected her heart, but she was cut about the face in such a manner that it appeared she would be scarred permanently.

Those scars can still be seen. "I made up my mind that I would become a success in motion pictures in spite of any possible handicap," Miss Lombard declared. "I know that the determination, born of an accident which caused a handicap, is responsible for my advancement. I think that such disasters often react beneficially. People who have handicaps work harder for success than those who don't have handicaps."

"Sarah Bernhardt, who lost a leg, is an example of this. The fact that she suffered this handicap did not interfere with her work. Her courage and determination to triumph over it resulted in her becoming a better actress—in fact, one of the greatest we have ever known."

Miss Lombard admits that she is not alone in Hollywood when it comes to battling against handicaps. Reginald Denny was playing in musical comedy when he lost his voice. He went to Hollywood, became a star in silent films, improved his voice to the extent that he is still in demand in motion pictures.

Marlene Dietrich, studying to be a concert violinist, broke her wrist, became a motion picture extra and fought her way to stardom. She believes to-day she would have been a mediocre violinist if the accident had not inspired her to put up a fight against terrific odds in an entirely different field—that of dramatic acting.

COLUMBIA SIGNS GLORIA SWANSON

Glamorous Gloria Swanson will definitely return to the screen in the immediate future, it was disclosed recently.

Harry Cohn, president of Columbia Pictures, closed the deal in a long distance telephone conversation with Miss Swanson in London.

Of almost equal importance is the vehicle which will serve as Miss Swanson's first presentation. It is the sensational unpublished novel by Noel Pierce, "The Second Mrs. Draper" which has been acquired by Columbia over the intensive bidding of every producer in Hollywood.

"The Second Mrs. Draper" is a story of a beautiful cosmopolitan who becomes the second wife of a wealthy man and who falls into the embarrassing situation of having her husband's son fall in love with her. The story deals with her methods of evading this youthful attention and turning the boy back to the girl who loves him. Pierce's story will be published serially in McCall's Magazine beginning in July, and will later be presented in novel form by McBride's publisher.

The picture is set for early production.

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

"You Can't Take It With You," the George Kaufman-Moss Hart current Broadway stage success, which was purchased last January by Columbia Pictures for $200,000, said to be the largest sum ever paid for film rights to a stage or fiction property, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the Best Play of the year.

In giving its award to "You Can't Take It With You," the committee has followed the public—the play has been the most popular one of the season. Opening at the Booth Theatre on December 14, of last year, to date it has had not an empty seat, with the SRC sign decorating the lobby of the house at every performance.

This is the second time that George Kaufman has won the Pulitzer Prize, the first was for "Of Thee I Sing," a political satire with music. Together, the co-authors of "You Can't Take It With You" wrote the two previous hits "Once In A Lifetime" and "Merrily We Roll Along."

POLICE THANK THE R.A.C.

A tribute to the work of the Royal Automobile Club's officials during the Coronation procession is paid by Sir Philip Game, the Metropolitan Police Commissioner, in a letter to the secretary of the Club.

"The services which the R.A.C. so generously undertook on this occasion," he writes, "were vital to the success of the ceremony and of the very greatest value, both to the police and to the general public. I fear that they must have put a heavy strain on your resources, but will believe me, I am sure, when I say that the highly efficient work of the officials of your Club, and of the road guides, was greatly appreciated."

WHY THE HINDENBURG CAUGHT FIRE

Doctor Hugo Eckener, designer of the Hindenburg, suggested at the inquiry into the loss of the airship a cause for the disaster which, to the lay mind at least, appears the most plausible of any yet advanced.

He virtually dismissed other theories and gave it as his conviction that hydrogen leaking from a gas cell was ignited by static electricity. He said he believed that the leak was caused by a shear wire which snapped as the airship made a sharp turn during the landing manoeuvres and tore a hole in an after gas cell. This caused a mixture of air and hydrogen to accumulate in a small space about a foot wide between the gas cell and the outer envelope of the ship. When the nose lines were dropped they were dry, and therefore poor electrical conductors. Drizzling rain which was falling at the time soon wetted them, howsoever, and static electricity was discharged inside the ship instead of passing harmlessly into the ground. This created sparks which ignited the hydrogen and air mixture.

Dr. Eckener said it was clear that the Hindenburg before landing was "very badly out of trim," possibly due to rain on the rudder fins. But this condition, always passed off very rapidly, and the fact that the ship was still "down by the stern" when she was preparing to moor indicated a leak aft.

fact that the purchaser, himself a member of an old Scottish family, intends to make the graceful gesture of sending both the ring and the links to the great-great-granddaughter of Flora Macdonald, to whom, he feels, they really belong.

ASSURANCES SOUGHT FROM BOTH PARTIES

Safety Of Warships
In Spain

London, June 14.
A communication embodying proposals to ensure the safety of foreign warships engaged in the work under the Non-Intervention Scheme is being despatched to the two parties in Spain by the British Government on behalf of the four naval powers. It is not anticipated in London that either of the parties will object to the request made to them for assurances for avoiding incidents in future, and it is hoped that favourable replies will be forthcoming with all reasonable speed.

The German and Italian governments regard assurances as a necessary part of the guarantees which they require and they will presumably await the receipt of satisfactory answers before returning to full participation in the work of the Non-Intervention Committee. It is expected that the terms of Saturday's agreement will be published within the next two or three days.—British Wireless.

BRILLIANT CEREMONY AT ST. GEORGE'S

Garter Service

London, June 14.
One of the most brilliant ceremonies of the Coronation year was provided by the Garter service in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, to-day. It was the first time the service had been held since 1914. The ceremony was attended by Their Majesties, Queen Mary and her husband, King George VI, and the first time for several centuries that ladies of the Order attended. Thousands watched the arrival of the Knights which included the Duke of Norfolk, Earl Baldwin and the Earl of Clarendon, who are newly appointed to the Order. The Knights, in gorgeous robes, marched in procession from St. George's Hall to the Chapel where they took their seats in the great carved stalls above which were the Knight's richly coloured banners. The service included anthems, and prayers for the Sovereign and Knights of Garter, and for the King's Dominions.—Reuter.

FAITH RETAINED IN AIRSHIPS

Despite Hindenburg Disaster

Friedrichshafen, June 14.
Far from discouraging public interest in airship construction, the Lakehurst disaster of the Hindenburg seems to have led to a growing interest in the Friedrichshafen works, and there has been an increased number of visitors both from Germany and abroad, in the past few weeks. The new airship, LZ 130, is nearing completion. A large portion of the body has already been covered by the silver-grey skin, and the electric station is also installed. In spite of the disaster of the Hindenburg, the world at large retains confidence in German aviation progress. This was indicated afresh by the award of the Daniel Guggenheim Gold Medal for 1937 to Dr. Hugo Eckener, the German airship expert.—Transocean News Service.

WORLD TALKS NOT DESIRED

Proposals In House
Of Commons

London, June 14.
The Prime Minister was questioned in Commons by a Labour member regarding the calling of a world conference to discuss disarmament, the removal of economic barriers, and international administration of areas whose inhabitants were too backward to be capable of self-government.

Mr. Chamberlain said that in the opinion of the Government it was undesirable to consider the calling of a world conference on such subjects as those mentioned without such a thorough investigation before hand as would indicate that there was a reasonable prospect of success. As to the removal of international barriers the Belgian Premier, M. Van Zeeland was at the moment engaged on an inquiry into the possibility of reducing international trade restrictions. Until the results of this inquiry were made known, it would be premature to consider the possibility of a world conference on the subject. Asked if there would be an interim report the Premier replied "I do not suppose there will be an interim report until M. Van Zeeland is in a position to say what he has ascertained."—British Wireless.

WOMEN PRISONERS IN SPAIN

London, June 14.
His Majesty's Government are prepared to consider approaching the Spanish Government with a view to arranging the evacuation from Spain of women imprisoned in Madrid. This statement was made by the Foreign Secretary in Commons, replying to a member who questioned him on the numbers and conditions of women incarcerated in the San Rafael and Carcel de las Ventas prisoners.—British Wireless.

IMPERIAL SHIPPING COMMITTEE'S WORK HIGHLY PRAISED

London, June 14.
The Committee on shipping questions which was presided over by the New Zealand Finance Minister, Mr. Nash, based its work on the principle that the maintenance of adequate British shipping is a matter of common concern to all members of the Commonwealth. It noted that certain forms and methods of discrimination had latterly been adopted by governments outside the Commonwealth where by British shipping in certain areas was seriously prejudiced if not threatened with entire elimination, and in this connection recommended a consultation between the Commonwealth Governments. One case of difficulty arising out of competition of subsidised ships running across the Pacific, between the United States and New Zealand and Australia, which was already under consideration by the United Kingdom, Canadian, Australian and New Zealand governments was referred to the sub-committee which reported that its discussions had not reached a finality.

The matter will continue to be dealt with by the four governments in consultation. The Committee also noted that the Imperial Shipping Committee is at present engaged upon investigation into the position of British shipping in Middle and Far Eastern waters, having regard to the increased competition of foreign flags. The continuation of the Imperial Shipping Committee, the work of which is highly praised, is recommended.—British Wireless.

Prevent NIGHT CHILL Dangers

You are inviting trouble if you go out into the chilly night air without your Peps. The risk of catching a cold or chill which might turn to pleurisy or pneumonia is far too great. So, when you stay late with friends and have to return home in the treacherous night air, be sure to suck Peps antiseptic breatheable tablets. Peps give off rich medicinal vapours which not only overcome infectious germs, but, by their warming and invigorating action, provide valuable protection for throat, chest and lungs. Try them!

To preserve the concentrated essence which Peps contains every tablet is wrapped in a special paper. They are packed in sealed glass bottles, along with full printed directions for taking, in English, at any medicine dealer.

U.S. SUPREME COURT BILL

Washington, June 14.
In words of bitter denunciation, the Senate Judicial Committee has presented a majority report on President Roosevelt's Supreme Court Bill.

The Committee asks for the defeat of the Bill as a needless, futile and utterly dangerous abandonment of constitutional principles, which is presented in a most intricate form for the reason that it will thus obscure its real purpose.

"It should be so emphatically rejected" adds the report, "that its like can never again be presented to the free representatives of the free people of America."—Reuter.

BAG-SNATCHING INCIDENT

Prison Term And The Birch

Mrs. Gregory Cullen, residing at Knutsford Hotel was the victim of a handbag snatching incident which occurred near Mody Road, Kowloon, on Monday night.

Tse Hung, 42, unemployed, who was charged with the theft of the bag, appeared before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday and was sentenced to two months' hard labour and eight strokes of the cane.

Mrs. Cullen, in evidence, said she had been to Chardhaven to collect a package and was turning into Mody Road when a Chinese dressed in dark clothes snatched her handbag from under her arm. He turned and ran down an alleyway. Witness screamed and pursued the snatcher. She also noticed another Chinese dressed in white who came from the direction of Nathan Road. He was running and also disappeared down the alleyway. Witness was about to board a bus when Mr. L. E. Cruz came along and stated that he had caught a thief and asked witness to go with him. She did so and identified defendant as the man who had taken her bag.

Mr. Wall, private watchman of the Empress Hotel, stated that he heard the screams and saw defendant running past with the bag in his hand. Defendant turned into an alleyway. He was caught by another gentleman.

Mr. L. E. Cruz, of the Government Wireless Station, stated that he saw a man running away. Screams were heard and witness gave chase. Defendant tried to dodge but was stopped by a European who struck defendant a blow on the chest with his umbrella. A policeman then searched defendant and the bag was found under his belt.

Defendant's story, which was not accepted, was that he did not steal the bag. Another Chinese dressed in white took the bag. Defendant gave chase. This other man dropped the bag and defendant picked it up. As they passed the Indian watchman, he stood up and gave chase also. Several people gathered and defendant was arrested.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE COMES TO AN END

ADDRESS OF LOYALTY TO THE THRONE

Empire Leaders' Speeches

LONDON, JUNE 15.

THE FINAL PLENARY SESSION OF THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE WHICH HAS BEEN SITTING IN LONDON SINCE MAY 14 WAS HELD THIS MORNING AT ST. JAMES' PALACE. THE PRIME MINISTER, MR. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, PRESIDING. ONE OF THE LAST ACTS OF THE CONFERENCE WAS TO ASK MR. CHAMBERLAIN TO SUBMIT TO THE KING AN ADDRESS IN THE FOLLOWING TERMS WHICH WAS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED:

"We, the Prime Ministers and representatives of the Governments of the British Commonwealth of Nations, who during the last few weeks have been assembled together in Imperial Conference, desire at the conclusion of our labours to express once again on our own behalf and on behalf of the people we represent their loyalty and devotion to Your Majesty.

"We pray that under divine providence Your Majesty and Her Majesty the Queen may long continue to preside over the destinies of the Nations of the British Commonwealth and that in that high task Your Majesties, whose Coronation it has been our privilege to attend, may ever find inspiration in the devotion and affection of your loyal subjects which was so strikingly manifested on that happy occasion."

Before the proceedings of the Conference closed, the following message was received from the King:

"I sincerely thank the Prime Ministers and representatives of the Governments of the British Commonwealth of Nations for their address to me from the final session of the Imperial Conference. The Queen and I greatly appreciate the generous terms of their message and good wishes to which it gives expression. I earnestly trust that the happiness and prosperity of my peoples in all parts of the Commonwealth may be enhanced as the results of the deliberations of the Conference. For my part it has given me a very welcome opportunity which has also been of utmost value to me of meeting my Ministers and other representatives of the Empire at the very outset of my reign.

"The Queen and I wish the Conference Godspeed and safe return to their homes. We hope that they will take back with them the same happy memories as we shall always retain of their visit to this country in our Coronation year."

CANADA'S TRIBUTE

In the speeches at the closing session it was remarked by the delegates that the 1937 Imperial Conference would always be associated with the historic event that preceded it.

Mr. Mackenzie King (Canada) said: "Their Majesties' Coronation vividly portrayed the vast Commonwealth composed of autonomous nations full-statured and free united by many ties of sentiment and understanding and by common allegiance to the Crown.

"Our deliberations have emphasised once more the effectiveness of reason and co-operation as an alternative to force in the conduct of international relations. They have demonstrated anew how peoples pursuing common ideals, but preserving a full measure of their independence, can find the means of working together for the common good. In the Imperial Conference we have enjoyed and exercised the family privilege of free and frank speech. This has contributed not only to better understanding of the tasks and problems of other members but to the attainment of a sound and workable basis of co-operation.

EUROPEAN TENSION

"We have met at a time when events from week to week, sometimes from day to day, have brought vividly home to us the tension of the European situation and the difficulties that beset those who are striving to bring stability out of unrest and confidence out of fear. Fortunately also we have seen how patient and unremitting are the efforts to repair the torn fabric of European unity, how widespread is the desire and determination to ensure peace, how deep the reluctance to incur the incalculable hazards of war.

"This experience, as well as the help we have gained from our discussions among ourselves, will, I am certain, encourage and enable each of us to strive more effectively for the rebuilding of international friendship and beneath diversity to seek unity not only in our relations with other members of the Commonwealth but in our relations with every other country that will work towards the same ends."

PROFOUND IMPRESSION

LONDON, JUNE 15. The Imperial Conference concluded this morning. At the plenary session at St. James' Palace, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, who presided, moved a loyal address to the King—Emperor of India; the resolution was seconded by Mr. Mackenzie King.

The Conference passed a resolution trusting that the work accomplished would prove of lasting benefit to the countries of the Commonwealth. Sir Zafrulla Khan, in his closing speech on behalf of India, said undoubtedly the results likely to flow from the conference would prove highly beneficial in securing the ends of promoting the objects they all had in view. He felt sure that a profound impression was created outside the Empire by the solidarity of the Empire in support of the common ideals.

AUSTRALIA'S APPRECIATION—Mr. J. A. Lyons (Australia) said that they emerged triumphantly. Remarkable unanimity was revealed on vital issues on international affairs and defence.

He emphasised the value to both the United Kingdom and Dominions of frank discussion of foreign affairs and expressed Australia's deep appreciation of what Britain was doing in regard to rearmament and Australia's recognition of how greatly her action contributed to the safety and security of the Dominions and the peace of the world.

NEW ZEALAND'S HOPES—Mr. Savage (New Zealand) said that after listening for some weeks to members of the various delegations, he was convinced more than ever before of the great part that could be played by the British Commonwealth.

The old contest for balance of power in foreign affairs must not be allowed again to find place in the deliberations of mankind and further attempts to expand trade and renew the struggle for foreign markets without recourse to improved standard of life for the people must be abandoned.

He leaves England in the fervent hope that the British Commonwealth will do its utmost to give a lead to other nations before it is too late. "We can, if we will," he said.

GEN. HERTZOG SPEAKS

General Hertzog (South Africa) said he leaves the Conference with a feeling of great hope and confidence in the ultimate results of what they have been able to achieve. The results achieved on international affairs testified to the importance attached by the British Commonwealth of Nations to peace and maintenance of peace. If those endeavours were to be successful the impartiality of our conduct will have to be above suspicion and disinterestedness scrupulously maintained. "The guardians of international world peace can have no favourites among the nations."

General Hertzog looked forward optimistically to the Commonwealth's capacity and competency for good during the coming years. The moment was fast approaching when only as a measure of self-defence in an hour of despair would war be resorted to. This opinion already prevails generally in civil life all over the world.

He had never attended a conference at which the labours have been sooner directed towards achieving the best for the Commonwealth and the world at large, he added.

SOLIDARITY OF OPINION

Mr. Neville Chamberlain said that after listening for to-day's speeches no one will doubt the unqualified success of the conference. The delegates were not afraid to assert their individual opinions, but on big issues whereon the welfare of mankind ultimately depends, they thought alike, and when the diverse nature of the countries represented at the Conference is taken into consideration, this solidarity of opinion is profoundly impressive and could not fail to exercise its influence far beyond the boundaries of the British Empire.

The keynote of Britain's foreign policy was the same as that which was repeatedly stressed as the first objective of every member of the Conference, namely maintenance of peace and removal of the causes which so long delayed the restoration of confidence in the world.

ARMAMENT BURDEN

Referring to the "terrible burden" of armaments, Mr. Chamberlain said that none of them must lose the opportunity of trying to remove those fears and anxieties that are at the root of the mischief. In bringing defensive forces to a state of efficiency in the United Kingdom, the Government believed they were contributing to the cause of peace and they in turn welcomed the efforts of other partners of the Empire in providing their own security which will conduce also to stability in the world.

Mr. Chamberlain concluded that although the Ottawa agreements had no part in the agenda, they all recognised the important part that may be played in international adjustment by economic adjustments and they had shown the world that selfish and exclusive economic nationalism forms not a part of their common creed.—Reuter.

MISSIONARIES IN ABYSSINIA

British Negotiations Bear No Fruit

LONDON, JUNE 15. The Anglo-Italian negotiations concerning the return to Abyssinia of the expelled English missionaries have led to no result, declared Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, in the House of Commons on Monday.

The Foreign Secretary stated that the Italian Government had implied that it will not grant missionaries regardless of their religion, permission to establish schools in Abyssinia, but would, however, allow missionaries to continue their welfare work.

Mr. Eden declared that the British Government regrets the Italian Government's decision and reserves the right to take similar steps against Italian missionaries on British territory.—Transocean News Service.

RESULTS OF CONFERENCE

Mr. Chamberlain's Summary

STRENGTHENING THE LEAGUE

LONDON, JUNE 15.

In the course of a summary of the proceedings and results of the deliberations at the Foreign Affairs Conference, Mr. Neville Chamberlain states while no attempt will be made to formulate commitments which in any wise could not be made effective until confirmed by the respective Parliaments, the representatives of the Governments closely agreed on a number of general propositions.

Thus an agreed settlement of international differences and adjustment of national needs should be sought by methods of co-operation, joint enquiry and conciliation instead of recourse to force.

They accordingly declared unanimously that their respective armaments will never be used for purposes of aggression or any purpose inconsistent with the League Covenant or the Kellogg Pact. Recognising the desirability of strengthening the influence of the League for enlargement of membership, they unanimously considered this object to be facilitated by the separation of the Covenant from the Peace Treaties.

PACIFIC PACT

They welcomed the agreements between the Commonwealth and other interested States in respect of certain regions wherein the States have special interests insofar as to contribute peace and not conflict with the Covenant.

They noted with interest the Australian proposal for a non-aggression pact by the countries of the Pacific and agreed that such an arrangement would be a desirable contribution to peace and should be the subject of further consideration between the Governments.

The widest possible measure of disarmament was desired, but defence measures were essential for their own security and fulfilment of any international obligations they assumed. The declaration was made that the Commonwealth of Nations will continue to consult and co-operate in the vital interests of peace.

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Touching economic problems, they declared readiness to co-operate with other nations in examining current difficulties, including trade barriers and other obstacles, and increase international trade and improvement of the general standard of living.

Finally those attending the Conference, while themselves firmly attached to the principle of democracy and parliamentary forms of Government, registered the view that difference of political creed should be no obstacle to friendly relations between the Governments and countries and nothing would be more damaging to the hopes of international appeasement than real or apparent division into opposing groups.

STATEMENT ON DEFENCE

The statement on defence says that conference representatives considered the subject of measures of co-operation for their own security. They noted with deep concern the increase of international tension since the 1930 session.

They were impressed by the worldwide effect of increased armaments, internationally, financially and economically. Consequently they thought it highly important that negotiations for limitation of armaments should be reopened at a favourable opportunity.

The United Kingdom delegation drew attention to the recent progress of standardisation of training equipment of Empire defence forces. The Conference noted the increased programme of armaments adopted by the members of the Commonwealth was no more than sufficient for defence and fulfilment of obligations.

FORCES IN INDIA

They were informed that the defence forces in India were designed primarily to meet a possible attack on this Northwest frontier and cope with the ever present problem of dealing with tribesmen there besides maintaining internal law and order.

It was recognised that the Army in India was fully equipped for its task and constituted a force which is as well prepared as any other to take the field if occasion arises.

SINGAPORE BASE

The conference noted the great importance attached to the Singapore Base by the Australian and New Zealand Governments and recognised the vital importance of measures to safeguard maritime communications and provide naval bases and facilities for repairs and fuelling of ships.

MONGOL TROOPS ATTACKED

Prince Teh In The "Thick Of It"

PEIPING, JUNE 15.

Reports received here from Kalgan to-day tell of sharp fighting in the township of Chaoyangchen, seven miles to the south of Chapsar, where Prince Teh, the Mongolian leader makes his armed headquarters.

A force of pro-Chinese volunteers repeatedly attacked two divisions of Mongol troops, inflicting some casualties before retiring.

It is stated that Prince Teh is personally directing the operations of his troops, who are supporting the Manchukuo administration, against which the Chinese volunteers' effort is aimed.

The Japanese, Kwantung Army has not yet taken a hand in the revolt.

However, volunteers are springing up in many quarters. It is reported from Pintichuan that a force of 500 volunteers is advancing towards Nanhaochan.

General Li Shou-hsin has telegraphed from Changpei instructing the garrison troops to prepare to resist attack and hold the town.—Reuter.

The vessels were seized for pearl-fishing operations in Australian territorial waters and the patrol ship's engines went out of order.—Reuter.

LABOUR LAW IN GERMANY

Obligation Of Employers Towards Workers

BERLIN, JUNE 15.

That National Socialist Labour Law does not allow any contractual regulations or provisions to interfere with its operation is evidenced by the decree passed in addition to the law of January 20, 1934, regulating National Labour. The new decree provides for employers the duty to take proper care of their employees, especially the young workers. To this effect the Boards of Industrial Supervisors have been instructed to see to it that young workers get at least one warm meal a day.

A large number of industrial concerns provide their employees with a midday meal at a trifling sum. In many cases, however, this custom was not introduced and to these concerns now goes the appeal that the decree is carried out in full.—Transocean News Service.

Base by the Australian and New Zealand Governments and recognised the vital importance of measures to safeguard maritime communications and provide naval bases and facilities for repairs and fuelling of ships.

They were accordingly glad to be informed that steps were being taken to this end and particularly that substantial progress was made towards completion of the Singapore Base and defences with the aid of generous financial assistance from various parts of the Empire.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Conference observed the various duties which the regular forces in the United Kingdom and India performed in protecting British interests and the frequent despatch of reinforcements to various parts of the world.

It heard with satisfaction the United Kingdom's steps to maintain a home defence and air force capable of affording adequate protection against attack by the strongest air force within striking distance of the United Kingdom shores.

References were made to measures of co-ordination in organisation of Empire defence services and exchange of technical information.—Reuter.

ROSELLI DEATH MYSTERY

PARIS, JUNE 15.

The mystery surrounding the death of the Roselli brothers, one of whom was shot, the other stabbed, is not cleared up yet, although the police are working at the case from several angles. The latest developments are the arrests of two foreigners, the Italian Mariano de Graziano, and the Dutchman Josef Hildeheim, not as murderers themselves, but as possible sources of information.

Graziano is declared to be sought by the Italian authorities, because a 12-year prison term awaits him for kidnapping, while the Dutchman has also previously been known to the police, because he forged his name on the passport and remained in Paris after the authorities had expelled him.—Transocean News Service.

WINTER RELIEF IN GERMANY

Good Work Accomplished

BERLIN, JUNE 15.

Interesting figures about the great welfare organisation in Germany, the Winter Relief Work, have been published here, which show that, apart from aiding more than 10,000,000 people, this organisation is, after the Army, the second largest consumer in the country, and thus acts as a splendid equalisation factor.

During last year, the figures show, the Winter Relief Work for instance purchased over 38,000,000 lbs. of vegetables that otherwise might not have been sold in the open market. The purchase of 2,000,000 lbs. of Tilsiter cheese in the same way relieved overstock in east German cheese markets.

Thirty five per cent. of the "catches" made by German sea-fishers were taken over, thus, as was desired, extending the consumption of fish. Some 8,000,000 lbs. of sugar were purchased and distributed, and over 2,000,000 lbs. of fruit products were bought, encouraging consumption in the direction as desired by the Four-Year Plan.—Transocean News Service.

BOXING AT THE PO HING THEATRE

Fine Programme Arranged For Friday

(By Roy Murray)

Friday's boxing programme which commences at 9 p.m. sharp at the Po Hing Theatre should attract a large crowd of fight fans. The programme has been elaborately arranged and a spice of variety has been included in the nature of a weight lifting exhibition, by Mr. Clement Affoyne, who is a member of the Sunshine Gymnasium. Mr. Affoyne has a wide experience of the weight lifting game and his own show at the interlude should prove quite an interesting novelty.

The Ringside officials engaged for the night are: Time-keeper and Announcer—Mr. H. Marriot, Judges, Mr. R. Quinlan (ex-Army Middleweight Champion of Egypt and Hong Kong) and Mr. W. Mackey. The choice of Referee has fallen on Mr. B. Fields, who has had a wide experience of the fight game.

Two interesting "curtain raisers" will take place when Reggie Ewart will face A. Garcia in a four round flyweight contest. The former lad is fancied to outpoint his Portuguese rival although the latter is a strong little battler. In the other junior four round event, Dennis Manders meets S. A. Lazar, the Mexican youngster and the former gets the vote of a points verdict.

The opening fight between the big men will be the thriller between "Iron Bux" Junior, who is recognised as Hong Kong's leading flyweight—and Little Bertie, a young aspirant from Manila. The local lad will find the Filipino a hard nut to crack but should emerge victorious on a points basis. This contest has been scheduled to go six rounds.

A Bantamweight contest timed for four rounds, will be fought out between Wild Denny, a clever little Filipino battler, and Bud Goldin of Russia. This pair are very evenly matched with Benny capable of unloading the deadlier punch, which may prove the deciding factor in a bout that promises to supply thrills galore. The former lad won a host of friends during his last appearance here, through his non-stop fighting attitude and should enhance his popularity on Friday night.

A six round Lightweight contest will be decided between "Battling Rio", who is Hong Kong's leading lightweight and "Bill Bashem" whose qualities are more or less unknown at the moment, which makes a direct forecast a somewhat arduous task. Next comes the Weight Lifting Exhibition by Mr. Affoyne, which should provide an enjoyable twenty minutes.

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS

Following the intermission we come to the spice of the programme when the local Bantamweight and Featherweight titles are at stake. The Bantamweight title bout is down to go twelve rounds when Young Aromin (present title holder) ducks under the ropes to clash with Fusiller Fisher (Army Champion). This is another bout which presents a puzzling aspect. Both men are evenly matched and the fact that Fisher has been seen more often in harness than the Filipino lad, may turn the tide in his favour. The thrilling Featherweight Championship fight between L. C. Whelan (Army Champion—Hong Kong, Egypt, Palestine) and Fusiller Owens (Runner up Army Championships and Champion of North Africa) should prove the tit-bit of the night. Whelan is undoubtedly the most stylish and clever boxer in the Colony at the moment and is trained to perfection for this bout which is scheduled to go fifteen rounds. In Owens he will meet a capable challenger for his featherweight crown as the Welshman can present quite a rugged defence and packs a useful punch. If the fight goes the maximum distance Whelan should have collected enough points by the end of the fifteen rounds to enable him to hold on to his featherweight title.

Another Interesting Lecture

The second lecture for the training of more efficient umpires for hockey was delivered by Sub-Inspector Tyler at the Kowloon Police Training School yesterday. Prior to the talk a hockey match was played between the Royal Welch Fusiliers and a team from the H.M.S. Osiris, the purpose of which was to give an opportunity to the candidates to detect faulty decisions and to take note of any unintentional foul play that might exist during the game.

The lecture dwelt chiefly on the umpire's ability to interpret the rules in the best interests of the game.

There has been constant blowing of whistles during the course of a game, the speaker said. Whether an umpire should overlook minor faults, only experience could make him a better judge. But three important points, the safety of the players, the danger to the defending team and the drawback to the advantage of the attacking side should be quickly and carefully considered before he resorted to blowing his whistle.

A good and efficient umpire must not be vindictive. He must not abuse any player, and above all must not criticise as an official with an air of "what I say goes never mind about you." He has to bear in mind that he is there to interpret the rules for the game's sake, and to have courage to be ready to admit and apologise for any faulty decision he has made.

An efficient umpire should be somewhat of a psychologist too, the speaker continued. He should understand the peculiar nature of the players and know whether or not a fault is made intentionally or otherwise. To give decisions which create hostile feeling in the field is an element which umpires should avoid.

"There has always been a tendency for the players to jump on the umpire and that has got to be stopped, and that's why we are here," concluded Sub-Inspector Tyler.

OPEN PAIRS MATCH

Playing at the Kowloon Cricket Club green yesterday in the Open Pairs Lawn Bowls Championship, M. A. R. Souza and C. S. Rossetti defeated L. A. Collyer and J. F. MacGowan by 22 points to 13.

OFFICER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Captain in Formosan Artillery Corps Has Breakdown

Due to a nervous breakdown, Captain Elchi Okahara, of the Formosan Mountain Artillery Corps, has made an abortive attempt to commit suicide by shooting himself with a pistol at his official residence in Taihoku, but failed, states the "Japan Chronicle."

The tragedy occurred several days ago, and though he is in a serious condition, he is expected to live. In order to make preparations for the periodical examination of the Corps by the Inspector of artillery, the Captain apparently overworked. This coupled with a chronic nasal ailment and also the severe advice regarding the responsibility of army officers given by his father (who is a Major-General), is presumed to have caused him to make the attempt.

COUNTERFEIT COINS

A report issued by the Naval authorities yesterday morning disclosed that a search was carried out by Revenue officers aboard the Pearl when she arrived here on Sunday from Shanghai.

The search revealed that bad copper coins of various denominations, to the value of $50 were in the possession of the chief cook, a Chinese named Woo Ah-moy. In a statement Woo said they had been in his possession before he left H.M.S. Cumberland in Singapore last March to join the Pearl.

The Commodore has asked the Commander-in-Chief for instructions as to the penalty, if any, to be imposed on the cook and whether or not the coins shall be confiscated.

Derby County Plan To Aid Third Division Clubs

At the meeting of the Football League on June 7, Derby County will again propose that the number of promoted and relegated clubs be altered from two to four.

The Management Committee propose to increase the talent money rule so that for wins in the Cup in Round 4 the players shall receive £4 instead of £2, £6 in Round 5, £8 in Round 6, £10 in the semi-final, and £12 in the final.

They will also propose that the top four clubs at the end of the competition in the First and Second Divisions be allowed to distribute among their players talent money for meritorious service not exceeding £275 for the top club, £220 for the second, £165 for the third, and £110 for the fourth.

The top three clubs in each section of the Third Division to be allowed to distribute similarly £220, £165 and £110; also for F. A. Cup winners £275, runners-up £220, other semi-finalists £165, and sixth-round losers £110.

REFEREES' FEES

Derby County will propose that the fees of referees be raised from 3 guineas to 6 guineas in the First and Second Divisions, and from 2 guineas to 4 guineas in the Third Division. The fees for linesmen to be increased from 14 guineas to 3 guineas in the First and Second Divisions and from £1 1s. to £2 2s. in the Third Division.

F.A.'s £20,000 Deficiency

Each of the F.A. Cup finalists, Sunderland and Preston, took £5038 from the Wembley final, and the F.A. £15,511 (net). The semi-finalists took £1364 each.

The Amateur Cup final, Dulwich Hamlet v. Leyton, realised £1712, and the clubs received £570 each.

Receipts from the international match with Hungary at Highbury were £3858, over £1000 more than from the match with Ireland at Stoke. Figures are from the statement of accounts presented at the F.A. meeting on June 7. They show a deficiency of £19,491 on the general account, and £2464 on the investment revenue account.

The international match account showed a profit of £1461.

Nearly £15,000 was paid out in grants to the King George V. Memorial Fund, the British Games and Sports Association, and the Football League Mutual Insurance Federation.

The same club will propose that to assist the clubs in the Third Division, each club in the First and Second Divisions shall, before the commencement of each season, pay to the League £88 4s. to form a fund which shall be distributed equally among the members of the Third Division.

Look at Your Skin

Skin Specialists declare that 90 out of every 100 women suffer from skin outbreaks, spots, pimples, blotches, and 'muddy' complexions UNNECESSARILY!

Ugly complexion faults, are woman's most common enemy. Few escape. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them. Whilst others, due to consistent wrong treatment, cause the skin to become highly sensitive, coarse and blemished.

To make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion fresh and smooth, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try Cuticura to-day. See how soon your skin improves, your complexion becomes smoother, more attractive than ever before.

HOME CRICKET
RESULTSHammond And Verity Again.

London, June 14.
Walter Hammond has scored another century and helped Gloucestershire to beat Essex by eight wickets.

Hammond's consistency with the bat has been one of the features of the county cricket season to date. Both he and James Parks of Sussex have displayed brilliant form.

Hammond's 145 against Essex was scored out of a total of 283 for 6 declared, Gloucester finding it necessary to lead Essex by only 71 on the first innings.

Essex went to pieces in their second innings, being dismissed for 88, and Gloucester hit off the required 18 runs for the loss of two wickets.

Goddard played a very important part in the result. In the first innings he took 7 for 34, and in the second 5 for 42, making a full analysis for the match of 12 for 128.

REGULAR PROCESSION

Wickets tumbled like ninepins during the second day's play between Worcestershire and Northants, ending with Worcester winning by an innings and 141 runs.

At the close of play on Saturday Worcester had scored 227 for 2. Gibbons was then 105 not out and Bull 93 not out.

These two advanced the score to the 300 mark, Gibbons scoring 150 and Bull 143, yet the whole side was out for 345. Actually Bull and Gibbons contributed 293 of the 345 runs, the remaining nine batsmen amassing 52 between them.

However this was quite sufficient to earn a definite result. Northants, having been dismissed in their first innings for 110, fared even worse in the second knock and were sent back for 94.

Yorkshire made mincemeat of Kent for the second time this season, winning by an innings and 51 runs.

Yorkshire did not find it necessary to continue their first innings from Saturday, and declared at the overnight score of 462 for 8, Hutcheon having scored 138.

"DEADLY" VERITY

Verity had the Kentish batsmen scraping around for runs and they could only tally 141. Verity had the impressive figures of 6 for 48.

Following on, Kent did a little better and put together 270, but they never looked like avoiding an innings defeat.

A low-scoring match between Nottingham and Leicester ended in a seven wickets victory for Nottingham.

Leicester were dismissed for 144 and 164 (Larwood 5 for 65), and despite some fine bowling by Flamson (7 for 48), Nottingham put together 179 and 130 for three wickets.

These scores were cabled by Reuters.

INDIANS' £2,500
CRICKET LOSSHeavy Deficit Reported After English Tour

The Nawab of Patudi, famous Indian cricketer, who has played Test cricket in England, in an interview at Bombay recently said that he hoped to play again for Worcestershire, if fit and if he were invited.

He also expressed the hope that he would play for India against the team Lord Tennyson has been invited to bring for a tour of this country in December.

"But whatever I do or don't do for Indian cricket," the Nawab added, "I definitely will not be a selector again."

It is understood that, according to the audited accounts received on the Indian cricket tour of England last summer, a loss was sustained on the tour of approximately £2,500.

CUP LEADS TO ARRESTJoe Davis' And His First Trophy

As a hefty youth of eighteen I put my foot on the bottom rung of the ladder when I played my first professional billiards match, writes Joe Davis in the "Daily Mirror." This was a game of 8,000 up with A. Raynor who conceded me a start of 1,000.

The match was played at Chesterfield, and lasted a week, and I look back upon it as one of the most notable events of my career, for I was playing in my home town before people who had known me all my life.

I must have been inspired by my supporters, for during the week's play I made twenty-two breaks over the hundred, and ultimately won the match by nearly two hundred. I remember that, although this was my first real experience in match play, I did not suffer at all from nerves, but that I was pleased with myself may, I think, go without saying.

Then came the day when I entered for the Midlands professional championship. Here I was up against stiffer opponents, but in the end I came out the winner. And thereby hangs a tale.

It was round about two o'clock on a Sunday morning when I reached Chesterfield, and as I wasn't in the habit of taking a cab in those days, I started to walk home.

FISHING ROD!

There I was trudging the quiet streets, with a huge silver cup in one hand and my cue case in the other, when a huge policeman grabbed me by the shoulder.

"And what have you got there, my boy?"

"A cup—a silver cup," I said. "Oh, and I suppose you caught it with that fishing-rod? Well, just let's take a walk along to the station and tell the sergeant."

Luckily, the sergeant at the police station was a billiards enthusiast. "Why, bless my heart, constable, it's our Joe!" he laughed. And that was my first and, I hope, last experience of the majesty of the law.

PRICELESS CUE

Years later, when I won the professional championship for the first time, I had an altogether different home-coming—in fact, it was almost a civic reception, with the town's brass band to play me through the streets of Chesterfield, and the cup held aloft for all to see.

But to think that anyone—least of all a policeman—should mistake my cue for a fishing-rod! And that cue, by the way, is still my favourite. I picked it up in a small town billiards hall for 7s. 6d. To-day I regard it as priceless.

Here is something that puzzles me. Why is the cue of the average amateur longer than the cues used by a professional?

The length of my cue is 4ft. 7 1/2 in., and this is the length used by all the leading professionals with the sole exception of Tom Newman.

FRENCH ECONOMIC CRISIS

Paris, June 14.

The French Cabinet has reached an agreement on the schemes evolved by the Ministry of Finance to solve France's present economic and financial crisis.

The communiqué reveals that the Cabinet unanimously approved of M. Vincent Auriol's financial plans, the main feature of which, it is understood, will be the raising to 10,000,000,000 francs the limit of advances which can be made by the Bank of France to the State.

It is believed that such advances would be covered by increased revenue from taxation by Orders in Council.

It is understood the Government proposes to replace certain taxation by further "ad valorem" taxes in consequence of the rise in the price of raw material. The Government is further credited with the intention of increasing the income tax by imposing more indirect taxation.

RECORDS TO ENGLISH WOMENGreat Deeds At Varsity Sports

Three new records were made at the Women's Inter-University sports at Westwood, Leeds, last month when teams representing Leeds, London, Birmingham, Edinburgh, Reading, and Sheffield competed.

Miss K. Connal (Leeds), who represented Britain at the last Olympic Games, was concerned in two of the new records, for in the 100 yds. she tied with Miss M. Lee (Sheffield) with a throw of 102ft. 6in.—3ft. 1in. better than that recorded by Miss Lee last year—and in the discus Miss Connal created a new record with 100ft. 3in.—2ft. 4in. better than that of Miss Ireland (Liverpool) in 1933.

Miss D. Saunders (London), who was a competitor in the Students' Games at Budapest in 1935, broke the 220 yards record with 28 3-10 sec., one-fifth of a second better than recorded in 1925, and she also equalled the record for the 100 yards with a time of 11 3-5 sec.

Leeds University became champions, defeating Birmingham (holders) through gaining three first places to one by Birmingham.

Actually both teams gained 55 points each, with London next with 54 1/2 points.

THE OBSERVATION
SCHEME

London, June 14.

In a Commons answer, regarding the Non-Intervention Observation Scheme, the Foreign Secretary said that the question of modifying or improving the system of naval patrol would have to be carefully considered by the Non-Intervention Committee as soon as it was able to resume its deliberations and the naval powers concerned were naturally giving careful thought to all aspects of the situation.

He added, in reply to a supplementary question urging the presence of neutral observers on patrol ships, that the British Government were in favour of that.

THE "AURORA"

Some Features Of The Coach

The "Aurora," the new air-conditioned coach of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, was placed on the run to Canton with effect from Monday. The coach seats 31 passengers, 14 of whom can be accommodated in the lounge portion in comfortable arm-chairs to which domes of silence have been attached to enable them to be readily moved by means of finger pressure to any position a passenger may desire. There is a parquet floor and a central blue carpet.

The coach is painted Aluminium colour to obtain the best radiation of solar heat. The floor, ceiling and wooden panelling are insulated with cork two inches thick, and the very large windows are sealed.

AIR-CONDITIONING
The air-conditioning system was provided by The Trane Company U.S.A. and is of the Ice-Activated type. There are two large bunkers underneath the coach into which ice is loaded every morning by the Dairy Farm Company prior to the run. As the ice melts, it is pumped through the pre-cooling and main coils, and from thence it is returned to the bunkers in the form of fine sprays. Air is forced under pressure round the outside of these coils where its temperature drops and its excess moisture content is extracted. It then passes through a central duct placed in the roof of the coach. This duct contains a series of holes approximately located above the seats. The air is exhausted at the rate of 400 cubic feet a minute; 20 per cent. is made up, from the outside air which passes through a viscous filter before passing through the coils, the remaining 80 per cent. being re-circulated after filtering.

NO EXTRA CHARGE
The coach is attached to the 8.25 a.m. express from Hong Kong and to the 4.50 express from Canton daily. No extra charge is made by the Railway Administration for this amenity, although a seat may be booked in advance on payment of a reservation fee of 50 cents.

The temperature aimed at lies between 80 deg. F. with a 50 per cent. humidity, and 75 deg. F. with a 60 per cent. humidity. The results obtained on Monday showed that this desideratum can easily be attained, as it was found possible when the plant was switched on to its full capacity to obtain an inside temperature of 89 deg. F. with 51 per cent relative humidity. Automatic thermostat controls are installed with a 70 deg. F., 75 deg. F., and 80 deg. F. temperature range. The insulation provided in the coach damps down vibration to a very considerable extent, and noiseless and dustless riding is obtained.

The "Aurora" is the first air-conditioned coach in China.

(and many pupils enter for the Trinity College each year) violin, mandolin or guitar.

A Physical Culture Class is held by Mrs. Pearce in the Gymnasium. This room, by the way, seemed amply big when the School first started, but now (with so many pupils) it is hardly large enough, and as ground is available it will probably be extended shortly.

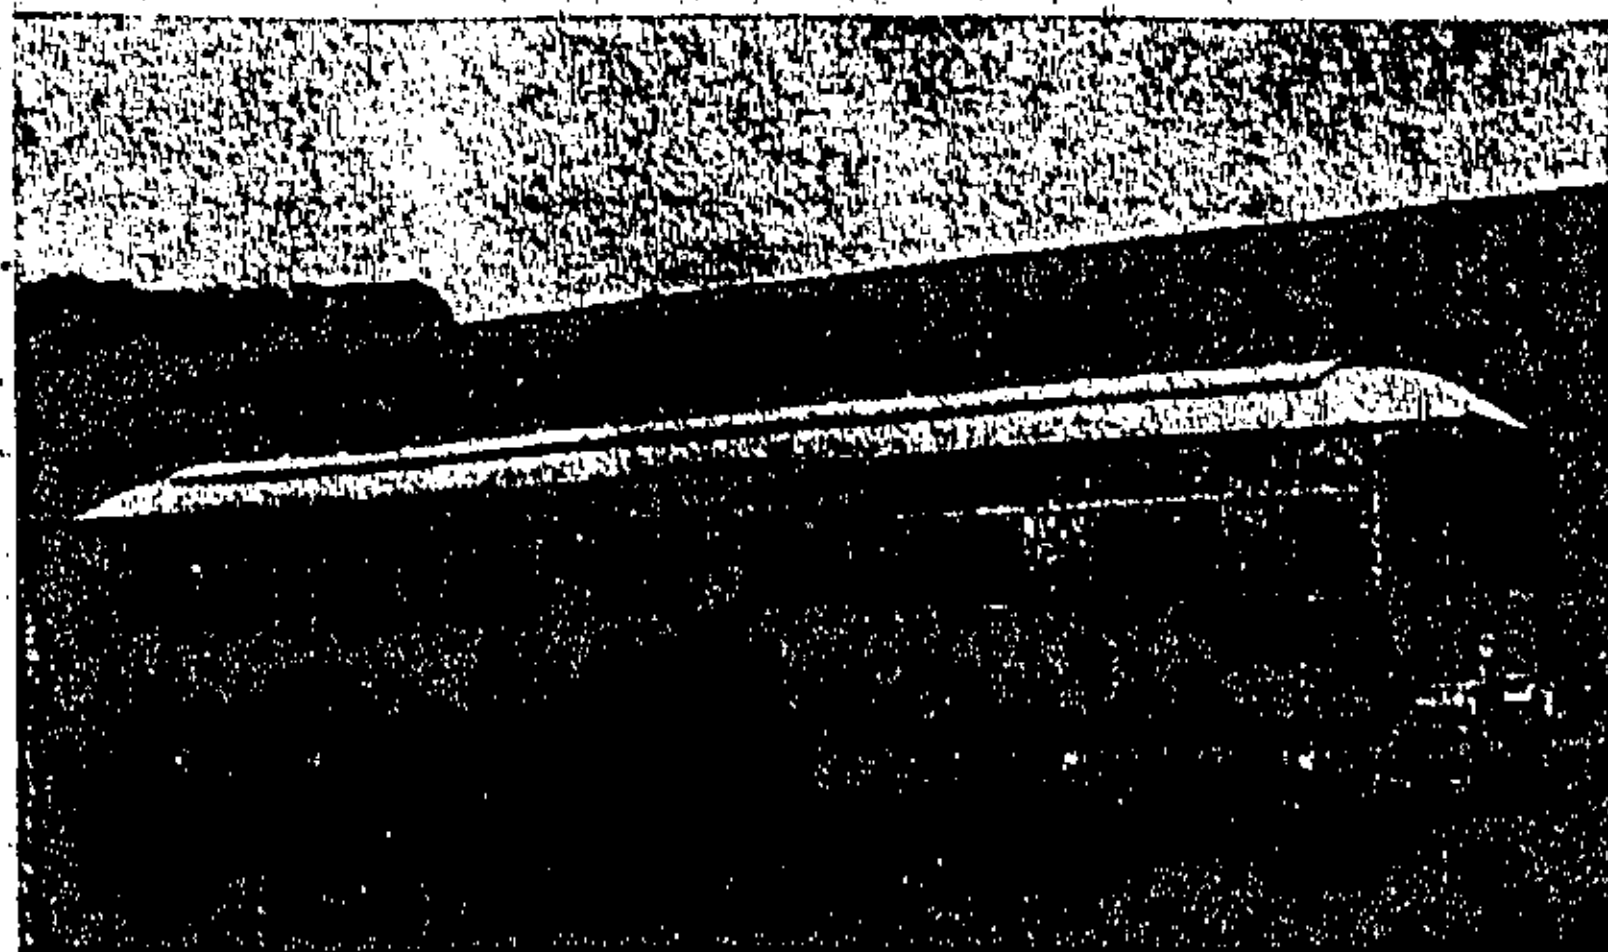

The delightful grounds are a great feature of St. Mary's School. A tennis court and basket ball ground, a field for exercises, and a place for swings, and besides these a beautiful playground with huge shady trees for sunny weather.

Indoors is an agreeable Common-Room (which is so popular with the older girls they often spend their holiday time there) where they have their own gramophone, and a ping-pong table, and a most attractive aquarium.

Silver cups for various subjects encourage competition in the various classes, and the Art Class is particularly flourishing. The many framed pictures, and others on display, show how keen is the interest taken in the subject.

The building itself is most attractive, built in white stone with occasional facings of red. From the large windows are wonderful views over Kowloon Bay and across to Lyeemoon, and a wide verandah edged with gay flowers runs the length of the building.

No wonder this delightful place attracts so many pupils! It is obvious that it fills a real and genuine need in the life of the Colony.

The smell was something like that of a motor exhaust. The injured people were not suffering from scalds or burns. There was no smell of gasoline on the pier nor any other smell which was unusual.

Tam Chuk Lam, office boy, French Consulate, deposed that just prior to the explosion he did not notice any letting off of steam on the launch. Witness heard one explosion.

UNWRAPPED OR EXPANSIVE

Major R. D. Walker, Manager and Chief Engineer of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, told the Court that he was travelling with his wife on a Star Ferry which had left Kowloon at 7.50 p.m. He was about 250 yards from Queen's Statue Pier when he saw the explosion prior to which there had been nothing noticeable.

Witness described the explosion technically as an unwrapped or expansive explosion. There was a considerable amount of greyish black smoke but there was no flame. It was a low pressure explosion, being that of a boiler.

There was no shattering effect, said witness.

During the war witness was an ammunition officer and therefore had considerable experience of explosives. The difference between low and high explosives was the difference between scattering and shattering.

The velocity of detonation of high explosives was from 2,000 to 8,000 metres per second; that of low explosives was only a few 100 feet.

A SINGLE REPORT

The explosion on the Dojima Maru, said witness, was a single report. If it had been a high explosive there would have been no passengers left and very little of the pier. The blowing of a body to the roof of the Hong Kong Club was what witness would expect with such an explosion.

There was a smell, probably that of lubricating oil. The cloud of smoke might have been due to anything.

Lau Chi Cheung, clerk, Messrs. Rondon & Company, who was standing on Queen's Statue Pier and was injured, also gave evidence. He stated that he noticed nothing unusual about the launch prior to the accident.

RESCUE WORK

Mr. J. C. Fitz Henry, Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, gave evidence of the organisation of the rescue work. He saw about twenty injured persons and there was no evidence of burning or scorching. Leung Sze, widow of the deceased seaman, gave formal evidence of identification, after which the hearing was adjourned to this afternoon at 2.30 p.m.

BIAS BAY TO BE CLEANED UP

Canton, June 15.

It is reported that the Canton Government in view of the urgent necessity for co-operating with the British authorities in the suppression of piracy, has decided to clean up the piratical haunts at Bias Bay.

It is proposed to erect fortified watch towers, and establish an air base, which may be used for defence purposes as well as in the campaign against pirates.

It is also reported that the British Government greatly favours this movement for mutual protection, as Hong Kong is situated only about fifty miles from Bias Bay.

Bias Bay is notorious for its pirates, and its history as the centre for planning piratical raids on Hong Kong and Kwangtung shipping dates back at least 100 years.
